A Note to Our Students

Lina Kreidie

MEPI-TLS Academic Director

You are published!!

You are today's and tomorrow's change makers.

Our dear second cohort of Tomorrows' Leaders for gender equality. This a big leap towards gender equality in terms of advocacy and policy recommendations. We are so proud of you and your passion to meet all the challenges facing you, your community, and the world even as the road to equality and social justice is long and hard. Stand up strong for equity, equality, and all human rights.

Accomplishments and progress require the vast support of open-minded and courageous people and institutions. Our Tomorrow's Leaders students have exactly that. Thanks to the Middle East Partnership Initiative at the United States Department of State for providing our students and our institution with the financial and ideological support to pursue the Lebanese American University's (LAU) commitment to human rights and other liberal values. Thank you to the MEPI-TLS team, both in Lebanon and abroad, for your remarkable support for and implementation of this program. Without your dedication, our students would not have the tools that they need to pursue a bright and gender equitable future for us all.

Finally, to our students: Remember, prosperity happens only once social justice has been achieved. Fly high, stay connected, and keep us posted as you move forward beyond the borders of our LAU campus. We salute your work.
